THE INTRODUCTION.

AS in treating upon most Subjects, it seems to be naturally requisite, that they be first of all perfectly and distinctly explained, by such particular Definitions thereof, or short Dissertations thereon, as shall be capable of giving the Reader the most perfect Idea of their Nature, Design, and Use, &c. I apprehended, that before I enter'd upon the subject Matter of this Treatise, which is designed to give A Complete View of that Part of his Majesty's Revenue, which is usually distinguished by the Title of Customs; it might not improperly be expected, that I should give some Account of their Rise and Progress: And therefore I have attempted to acquit myself, in the best manner I was able, by a short Deduction of the several Variations, and different Regulations they have underwent, from the first Original, to the present State of that Revenue.

Tho' by the Law of Nature all Things were common, and all Persons equal, there being neither Meum nor Tuum, King nor Subject; yet when the Law of Nature came to be limited by the Law of Nations, and such a Thing as Property came to be claimed, it naturally caused Trade and Commerce; whereupon Kings or Rulers became absolutely necessary to maintain and defend such Property and Commerce. And in order to support those Kings or Princes in their Offices of Government, and to defray the Expences which they must necessarily be at, in maintaining Ambassadors at foreign Courts, chiefly to procure Justice to be done to Merchants; their Charges of procuring Treaties with foreign Princes for the Advancement of Trade, and of maintaining a Navy of Ships for the Defence of the Merchants, by a Protection at Sea from Enemies and Pirates, and also their Charges in supporting a Court of Admiralty for the deciding of maritime Causes; they seem originally to have taken Tributes or Customs by virtue of the Prerogatives inherent to their Crowns, as given to them by the Law of Nations, quasi Ministeriorum suorum Stipendia: Which having been customary to have been paid time out of mind, were accounted as an Estate of Inheritance annexed to their Crowns. And as to the Reasonableness and Justice of such Demands of Duties by the Prince, and of the ready and chearful Obedience and Compliance in the Payment thereof by the Subjects, there is no less Testimony and Authority than the Holy Scriptures, wherein our Saviour commanded Tribute-Money to be paid, saying, Render unto Cæsar, the things which are Cæsar's; and St. Paul adviseth every Christian to pay Tribute to Rulers, saying, Render to all their Dues; Tribute to whom Tribute is due, Custom to whom Custom.

In England, the most ancient and principal Tribute, or Duties, that were paid to our Kings, seem to have been those upon the Exportation and Importation of Merchandizes crossing the Seas: which were of two different Kinds, and distinguished by two different Names, viz. Customs and Prises, or Prisage.

CUSTOMS were the Duty payable for Native Commodities exported, particularly Wooll, Wooll-Fells, and Leather, after certain Rates; the which were advanced or reduced at the King's pleasure, as occasion required. And having probably been payable from the Beginning of the British Monarchy, has been always distinguished by the Title of The Great and Ancient Customs: But now, according to the present Acceptation of the word CUSTOMS, it is used to signify the several Duties which are payable on the Importation, as well as Exportation of all Goods and Merchandizes whatsoever.

PRISES, or PRISAGE, was the ancient Duty payable on taken for foreign Commodities imported, not at any certain Sum of Money, but by taking such a Part thereof in Specie, as the Kings thought sufficient for their own proper Use; paying for the same such a Price as they thought fit and reasonable, which was called the King's Price. For Wines, it was the Practice to take one Ton in ten, or two in twenty, paying no greater a Price than twenty Shillings per Ton; and I suppose the Price for the Prifage of other Goods was in proportion. But King Edward the First, by a Charter made in the 31st Year of his Reign, called Charta Mercatoria, remitted this Duty of Prifage, to all Merchant-Strangers, who in lieu thereof granted him a Duty of three Pence in the Pound, (commonly called Petty-Custom,) upon all native Commodities exported, over and above the Great Customs before paid, and also upon all Merchandizes imported, except Wines; and upon all Wines imported two Shillings for every Ton, being the Duty that has been since called Butlerage.

And besides the aforefaid Duties, there were in the Reigns of King Edward the First, Edward the Second, Edward the Third, Queen Mary, Queen Elizabeth, King James the First, and King Charles the First, collected by virtue of their Prerogatives only, several occasional or temporary Impositions, after several different Rates, upon Wines and several other Goods imported, Wooll, Cloths, and several other Goods exported, which they caused to be levied by only sending their Writs to the Collectors of the Customs in every Port. But these Impositions were sometimes remitted, upon Petition of their Subjects in Parliament, especially when they would grant other Aids or Subsidies of greater Value; yet when those Aids granted in recompense of the occasional Impositions, were spent, they have been oftentimes again renewed, or others of the like Nature imposed.

But in Process of time, this absolute and unlimited Prerogative of the Crown, of imposing and levying the aforesaid Duties came to be stinted and restrained, and in a great measure yielded up by the Crown, to the Parliament: For upon the frequent Petitions of the Subjects for the Remission thereof, and their free Offers of sufficient Supplies by Parliament, for all necessary Occasions; King Edward the Third, and the several succeeding Kings and Queens, by his Example, were contented to suspend their ancient and hereditary Duties, which being very much decreased, were grown deficient; and in lieu thereof, to accept of either such temporary Subsidies or Aids by Parliament, as should be thought sufficient to assist them upon any extraordinary Occasions or Emergencies; or of such fixed and settled Subsidies, as should be sufficient for the Support of the Honour and Dignity of the Crown, the Defence of the Realm, and the Safeguard of the Seas, during their respective Lives: And these parliamentary Subsidies were always composed of two several and distinct Parts, viz. a Tonnage, and a Poundage.

Tonnage was payable upon all WINEs imported, after the particular Rates, and according to the particular Methods prescribed by the several Laws which granted this Duty to the respective Kings and Queens; being at first no more than two Shillings per Ton, though in succeeding Reigns it was very much increased.

POUNDAGE was payable on ALL OTHER MERCHANDIZES imported and exported, according to the particular Rates and Values prescribed by the several Laws which granted this Duty to the respective Kings and Queens, being at first no more than 6*d.* in the Pound of the particular Rates or Values, tho' in succeeding Reigns it was advanced to 12*d.* in the Pound. And to this Subsidy of Tonnage and Poundage, there was likewise, in the latter Reigns, annexed,

A Subsidy of WOOLLEN CLOTHS, or old Drapery, which was payable upon all Woollen Cloths exported; after the particular Rates, and in the particular Proportions prescribed in the respective Books of Rates.

But after the Restoration of King Charles the Second, the aforesaid Subsidies, which before had underwent several different different Regulations, were settled and established upon the Foundation whereon they now stand, and granted to his said Majesty during his Life, For the defraying of his necessary Expences in guarding and defending the Seas against all Persons intending the Disturbance of his Subjects in the Intercourse of Trade, and the Invading of this Realm; by an Act passed in the twelfth Year of his Reign, entitled, A Subsidy granted to the King, of Tonnage and Poundage, and other Sums of Money payable upon Merchandize exported and imported, referring to, and enforcing, A Book of Rates of Merchandize, &c. according to which the said Duties were to be levied and collected.

And upon the Model of, and with Reference to, this Subsidy of Tonnage and Poundage granted to King Charles the Second, there has, for the defraying the Expences of Wars and other necessary and extraordinary Occasions, been granted by subsequent Acts of Parliament, several Additional Subsidies, Impositions and new Duties, which being to be levied and collected after the Manner of the aforesaid Subsidy, upon the Importation and Exportation of several sorts of Goods and Merchandizes; are usually, tho' improperly, comprehended under the general Title of CUSTOMS.

Thus have I here given such a short Narrative of the Rise and Progress of that Part of his Majesty's Revenue which is commonly called the CUSTOMS, as I thought might be sufficient to give a just and perfect Idea, and prepare the Reader for the Perusal, of the following Treatise; which is an Essay towards a compleat System of that Revenue as it now stands, without any regard to the former Regulations, which are either repealed or expired.

For the CUSTOMS are now really become a perfect Science, there having been no less than thirty additional Branches, or particular Duties imposed since the Restoration of King Charles the Second; and the Laws prescribing the Manner and Means for the levying and collecting of those Duties, with those that have been found necessary to have been made for the Preservation and Security of the Revenue in general, within these 50 Years past; have so increased the number, that the Body of Custom-Laws is now swelled to above ten times its former Bulk. Therefore, as they are so numerous, and many of them often made with an Eye only to some particular Purpose, without regard to the Circumstances and Regulations prescribed in former Acts, it must naturally happen, that they will sometimes very much clash and interfere, so that in many Cases it is very difficult to fix a particular Point: and as the Repeals, Expirations and Revivals of several Acts are so frequent, that it is often difficult to know whether a Law is in force, or not; it is no wonder that they are no better understood by too many, whose Business it is to execute them, and much less by most others, whose Interest it is to know the Privileges to which they entitle them, and the Penalties to which they subject them; that they may reap the Benefit of the one, and avoid the Punishment of the other.

But that a Subject of such general Importance as the CUSTOMS payable to the Crown of Great Britain, may no longer remain so great a Mystery; I have here endeavoured to set them in the clearest light I was capable, by methodizing and digesting them in such a manner, that I apprehended would make them the most easily and readily understood: so that I flatter myself, any one, who has had but a tolerable Education, and will not think a little Pains and Application too much, may in a short time, without any other Assistance, attain to a competent Knowledge of the several Parts of this Revenue.

THE PREFACE TO THE FOURTH EDITION.

IT is needless to say any thing in praise of Mr. Crouch's last Edition of this Book of Rates; the universal Approbation it has met with, and the general Use of it, both among Officers of the Customs and Merchants, are a better Recommendation of the Performance, than the highest Encomiums from the Pen of an Editor. Every one who is thoroughly acquainted with the Work, must be sensible it was a Production of Labour and Ingenuity, and that the Author truly merited the Encouragement he met with.

But tho' at its first coming out it was, and at present is in the main, a useful and valuable Performance; yet Time has render'd it in some measure imperfect, upon account of the several Alterations of, and Additions to, the Laws of the Customs, enforced by Acts of Parliament, subsequent to its Publication. For which Reason, as the Sale of the last Edition, and the daily Call for the Book, has made another necessary; it was thought proper, in preparing this Edition for the Press, (in order to render the Work the more useful) to make such Alterations and Additions, with respect to the Subject Matter of the Book, as those subsequent Laws do require. In every other respect, the Reader will find it the very same with the last Edition: and he may be assured that the utmost Care has been taken, that nothing should be omitted which might tend to make it as compleat and correct as possible. How far we have succeeded, is submitted to the Judgment of the judicious Reader; who it is hoped will make an Allowance for any Error in Judgment, which may arise from the Ambiguity of an Act of Parliament, or the Difficulty of reconciling one Act with another; for, as Mr. Crouch has justly observed, "they are frequently made with an Eye only to some particular Purpose, without regard to the Circumstances and Regulations of former Acts."

(e) But in consideration of any Leakage which may happen during the Voyage if the said Liquors are imported in Casks, and enter'd as unfill'd up, the Merchant is to be allowed twelve per Cent. out of the aforesaid gross Duties: But he thinks such Allowance not to be equal to the Leakage, and shall chuse to enter them as fill'd up, he loses the said Allowance, and pays Duty for no more than is actually contained in the Casks.

Tho' in strictness, when Wines are brought into London by Certificate from the Out-Ports, they should pay only the Difference of the Duty, or what they have paid short of the Duty due in London, according to the nature of the Entry; yet it is the Practice always to take the said Difference as if the Wines had been enter'd fill'd, and so not to allow this twelve per Cent. for Leakage, notwithstanding the Wines may have been at first enter'd as unfill'd.

(f) And upon the Importation of Wines in Casks, there is also the following Allowances to be made out of the Gross Duty, viz.

This Duty, as well as the Old Subsidy and Additional Duty, consists of Tonnage and Poundage; being payable in ready Money upon all Goods and Merchandizes liable to those Duties imported from any Port or Place of the Mediterranean Sea beyond the Port of Malaga, into any Port of Great Britain, any (British) Ship or Vessel that hath not two Decks, and doth carry less than sixteen Pieces of Ordnance mounted, together with two Men for each Gun, and other Ammunition proportionable: Unless one Moiety of her full Lading inwards was Fish (taken (a) and cured by his Majesty's Subjects only) exported from any of his Majesty's Dominions; in which case, the Goods or Merchandizes imported in the same Ship for that Voyage, are not liable to this Duty.

The Duty.

The practical Method of computing this Duty, is by taking }  $\frac{1}{3}$  Part of the Old Subsidy and Additional Duty

Upon Exportation ————— Not Drawn Back

As the Ports in the Mediterranean Sea are so very numerous, and many of them not commonly known, I have, as a Guide for the Collection of this Duty, here added such as are beyond the Port of Malaga, as they appeared to me, upon consulting the best Maps and Treatises of Geography: and though many of them are but inconsiderable, and others such as perhaps are seldom or never traded from; yet I chose rather to insert them, than to omit any Place that might possibly be wanted to be known.

Ports in the Mediterranean Sea, beyond the Port of Malaga.

And so in Proportion for any greater or lesser Quantities.

(d) Which said Additional Impost-Duty, may be paid at  $\frac{1}{4}$  Month before the Importation, that is, at 4 equal and quarterly Payments, upon the Importer's giving Security for the same: But if he chuses to pay down the Duty on Entry, he is to be allowed Discount after the Rate of l. 10 per Cent. per Annum which being equated to the Times of Payment, reduces it to l. 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  per Cent.

(e) Upon the Importation of French Tobacco, there is likewise to be a further Allowance of l. 8 per Cent. as out of the other Duties; which is not to be deducted on Exportation.

(f) And upon the Importation of French Wines in Casks, there is also to be a farther Allowance of l. 6 per Cent. out of this Gross Duty.

For the Method of Computation, take the following Example:

The foregoing Duties are such as are at present payable to his Majesty upon Goods and Merchandizes imported, exported and brought Coastwise: But there being two other Duties, (which originally were also payable to the Crown, though now they are by particular Grants become a private Right,) the Nature thereof is proper to be known by the Officers of the Customs, in regard the same are liable thereto, are exempted from Payment of Part of the Customs, &c. thought it proper to give a short Account of the said Duties.

N<sup>o</sup> 35.—Prisage and Butlerage.

THESE Duties were originally the only Custom that was payable upon the Importation of Wines, and were taken and received by virtue of the Regal Prerogative, for the proper Use of the Crown: But for many Years there having been granted by Parliament, Subsidies, or Aids to the Kings of England, and those Duties not repealed but (a) confirm'd; they have been used to grant the same away to some Nobleman, who by Virtue of such Grant or Patent is to enjoy the full Benefit and Advantage thereof, and may use the same to be levied and collected in the same Manner as the Kings themselves might and were formerly wont to do.

(b) PRISAGE is a certain Taking or Purveyance of WINES to the King's use, out of every Ship bringing in Wines belonging to the Natives of England, except the Merchants of London, the Cinque Ports, Southampton and Chester, which are exempted by particular Charters: To be taken upon the breaking of Bulk, or unloading any Part of the Ship's Cargo, according to the whole Quantity on board, though there be not more than one Ton landed.

This Duty is either Single or Double.

SINGLE PRISAGE is one Ton, and is due in Kind, when the Quantity imported amounts to or exceeds ten Tons, but is under twenty Tons: For if under Tons, there is not any Prisage due.

DOUBLE PRISAGE is two Tons, and is due in Kind, when the Quantity imported amounts to, or exceeds twenty Tons, which is the most due out of any one Ship: One Ton to be taken before, and the other behind the Mast, at the Pleasure of the King's Butler or Prifage-Master; who may taste the whole, or go, and chuse the best Wines, and fill up the Vessels, or chuse those that are the fullest, and take them away, allowing only (c) 20 s. per Ton for Prifage. Or if the Owners had rather, he may compound with them for the whole Quantity, at a certain Price, as is the Practice in London, &c.

But as there is a Difference in favour of the Prifage-Master, between Customs and other Duties due to the Crown, which are to be paid by him the Merchant; the Officer of the Customs must carefully observe, that there always a sufficient Quantity imported, to allow the said Prifage.

BUTLERAGE is a Duty of 2 s. for every Ton of Wines imported by Merchants Strangers; being a Composition (in lieu of the Duty of Prifage payable in England only,) in consideration of the Liberties and Freedoms granted them by King John, and King Edward the First, by a Charter called Charta Mercatoria.

CHAPTER the Second.

CONTAINING

Book of the Rates of Merchandize Inwards and Outwards, as rated and agreed on by the Commons House of Parliament, for Payment of the Old Subsidy granted by the Act of Tonnage and Poundage made 12 Car. II. cap. 4. and subscribed with the Hand of Sir Harbottle Grimstone Baronet, Speaker of the House of Commons; And also referred to by the several subsequent Acts which granted the other Subsidies and Impositions, &c. for the Payment of the same.

LIKEWISE

Additional Book of the Rates of Goods and Merchandizes usually imported, and not particularly rated in the aforesaid Book of Rates, as rated by an Act made 11 Geo. I. cap. 7. and signed by the Right Honourable Spencer Compton Esq; Speaker of the Honourable House of Commons: Being instead of the Values upon the Oath of the Importers, for Payment of the several Subsidies and other Duties: And the Rates of such Goods as are particularly rated by any other Acts; the which are quoted under the particular Species of Goods to which they relate.

TOGETHER WITH

Rules, Orders, Directions, Allowances and Regulations annexed to the aforesaid Books.

To which is added,

neat total Amount of the several particular Duties payable from those Rates, on each Species of Goods therein Rated, as also on such as are not therein rated, but pay Duties ad Valorem; with The neat total Amount of the several Duties to be repaid or drawn back upon Exportation of the Goods to foreign Parts in Time, and The neat Duties to be paid upon Goods brought Coastwise, and to be drawn back, if afterwards exported to foreign Parts.

HAVING in the former Chapter fully treated of each distinct Branch of the Revenue of Customs, the greatest part whereof had Reference to the Rates of the respective Goods on which they are payable: I have in this Chapter given the several Rates or Values of Goods and Merchandizes, prescribed by several Acts of Parliament; with the Addition of every thing I apprehended would be proper to be observed thereon, either for the Information of the Officers of the Customs, or the Merchants: For the better understanding whereof be pleased to observe,

That all Goods and Merchandizes are inserted under their proper initial Letters, unless such as are only one particular Species of many others of the same Nature, for which there are general Heads erected, under the initial Letter of such Head, as in the Cases of Corn, Drugs, Furs, Grocery Wares, Linen, &c.; so that when any particular Sorts of those Goods are wanted, they may be sought under their proper Head, and not under their particular initial Letters.

2. That though several of the Goods expressly Rated are prohibited to be imported; yet as they were rated, I have charged the Duties that they would be liable to, in case there were not any such Prohibition: But as a Caution against a general Mistake, That all Goods rated, and thereby charged with Duty, may by Virtue of such Rates be lawfully imported, notwithstanding they are before particularly and expressly prohibited; I have under each Article or general Head of Goods prohibited, noted such Prohibition, referring to the Index the particular Circumstances, &c.

3. That as several Sorts of Goods that are not Rated, are also prohibited, have likewise inserted them under their proper Letters or Heads, amongst those that are rated, with a like Reference to the Index.

4. That all Regulations relating to any particular Species of Goods are inserted under such Goods, or refer'd to in the Index: But that, as for those that relate to the Trade from particular Places, as Turkey, Russia, the British Plantations, &c. or to other general Regulations for the Importation of Goods, I refer to the Index, particularly to the Heads of Goods, Plantations, Boards, &c.

5. That the several Species of Goods which have the rest of the Line or Lines

Likewise printed in Roman Letters, and whose Rates are inserted —

Printed in Italic Letters. —

In the first Column of Rates—Were so rated by Act of Tonnage and Poundage passed 12 Car. cap. 4. Annoq; 1660; unless where they have since altered; in which Case, the Act that such Alteration is always quoted.

In the second Column of Rates—Were so rated by Act passed 11 Geo. I. cap. 7. Annoq; 1721; instead of the Values of those Goods which were to be ascertained upon the Oath of the porters: But not to extend to such of the Goods as are of the Growth, Product or Manufacture of the East-Indies or China.

And whose Rates are inserted in the first Column Rates, were so rated or otherwise alter'd by particular Acts, the which are always quoted.

And not at all rated, but yet charged with Duties are such as pay either all or part of the said Duties, according to their Values upon the Oath of the Importers.

And not at all there rated or charged with Duties are such as are rated under some other Letter or general Heads, to which there is always Reference.

Note, The Goods rated by 12 Car. II. and those rated by 11 Geo. I. have many Cases under different Regulations with respect to the Duties to which they are liable; I was obliged for Distinction sake to erect two Columns Rates.

6. That the third and fourth Columns contain, The total Amount of the Duties to be paid on the Importation of all Goods and Merchandizes, as well British as by Strangers, or Aliens; as computed from the afore said Rates, Duties, &c. to the utmost Exactness.

7. That the fifth Column contains, The total Amount of the Neat Duties to be repaid or drawn back upon Exportation of the said Goods within three Years (the Time limited by Law;) whether they were imported by British, or Strangers.

That in the aforeſaid third, fourth and fifth Columns, the Duties of all except Tobacco, are computed as if they were all paid down at Entry in Money, notwithstanding ſome of them may be ſecured by Bond: But as Discounts for prompt Payment are very large, the ſaid Duties are very bonded; and to have inſerted them to each Species of Goods, would require three more diſtinct Columns; I can therefore only adviſe, that if the Merchant chuſes to give Bond, he would purpoſely compute the Duties; for which the References mentioned in the next Paragraph will be his Guide. And that the ſaid Duties conſiſt of Pounds, Shillings, Pence, twentieth of a Penny, and fractional Parts of thoſe twentieths; for though even a Penny would be exact enough for One of any Species of Goods, yet where Duties of a large Quantity are required, if the greateſt Exactneſs for One is obſerved, the Difference may ſometimes be pretty conſiderable. The Inconvenience whereof I experienced in my former Edition, where I omitted any of a Penny leſs than one twentieth.

That the ſixth and laſt Column contains References to the ſeveral particular Branches which compoſe the aforeſaid total neat Duties, to be paid and repaid; the whereof you will find fully exemplified and explained by a Table, after the Duties on Goods brought Coaſtwiſe; towards the latter End of this Chapter: Being chiefly deſign'd for the Uſe of the Officers, to direct them in the Computation of the particular Branches, to which each Species of Goods are liable.

That tho' the aforeſaid neat Duties were more particularly deſigned for the Uſe of the Merchants, who need not trouble themſelves about the ſeveral Branches which compoſe the total Duties: Yet it will be found extremely ſerviceable to the Officers of the Customs in chequing their Operations of the ſeveral reſpective Branches, by likewiſe computing the total Duty; which if right, will be found to agree with the Total of the ſeveral Branches.

That the Method obſerved in relation to the Goods and Duties Inwards, is purſued in treating of Goods exported, and brought Coaſtwiſe.

That beſides the ſeveral Duties before-mentioned payable to his Maſteſty, there are likewiſe payable to the City of London, the Duties of Scavage, Tonnage, &c. for all Goods imported into, or exported out of the ſaid City by Strangers or Denizens, as alſo for certain enumerated Goods imported by ſhip in foreign Ships: For the Tables of which Duties I muſt refer to Chapter the fourth.

By the two first Acts, this Duty is appropriated to the Building of 50 New Churches, and the Maintenance of the Ministers; and by the 3 Geo. I. cap. 9. §. 5, 13. is charged with a Fund of £. 21000 per Annum, for the raising of £. 36000 for the like, and other Purposes; and with another Fund of £. 30559 : 14 : 0 per Annum, for the paying off, and discharging of £. 500000, with Interest at 4. 4 per Cent. per Annum, for the fortunate Tickets in the Lottery 1719; which Sum of £. 500000, or any Part thereof, was, by 6 Geo. I. cap. 4. empowered to be taken into the Capital Stock of the South-Sea Company, and the said Company so be entitled to an Annuity after the Rate of 4. 4 per Cent. per Annum for so much as they should take in. And the Surplus, which, by the two last mentioned Acts, was reserved for the Disposition of Parliament, is, by the 13 Geo. I. cap. 21. §. 1, 12, 20. after Michaelmas 1726, applied to the Discharge of £. 3700000, with Interest at 4. 4 per Cent. per Annum, to be raised for the Service of the Year 1727. But by 1 Geo. II. cap. 8. §. 1, 2, 3, 5, 16. upon being freed from all former Charges and Incumbrances, by paying off the Proprietors, and cancelling the Exchequer Bills, the Bank of England, by advancing the Sum of £. 1,750,000. are, after 24 June 1728, entitled to an Annuity of £. 70000, being after the Rate of 4. 4 per Cent. per Annum. As this Duty is to be raised, levied, and collected in the same manner, and by the same Rules and Ways, &c. as the other Duties on Coals and Culm brought Coastwise into the Port of London; and as those Duties may be secured to be paid in three Months, and upon Payment of Ready Money, are allowed a Discount of £. 10 per Cent. per Annum, (which for the said three Months is £. 2 per Cent.) therefore if this Duty of 3 Shillings per Chald. or Ton, be paid down, it will be reduced to £. 0 : 2 : 11  $\frac{2}{3}$ , as above. 9 Ann. cap. 22. §. 1, &c.

Having the Act introduced to this Chapter, fully shown the Nature and Extent of the several Duties on Goods and Merchandises, I now add, Outward, and Coastwise, in the most plain and obvious Manner I was capable, so that the Total Amount thereof might be directed to the proper Use, and the whole be brought to the same End.

So that by the aforeſaid Table of the References, and the List of the Branches therein refer'd to, the particular Duties to which any Species of Goods are may be readily diſcovered; as will more plainly appear by the following ſamples, viz.

I. Suppoſe the ſeveral Branches chargeable on ALPISTI, as before directed to be known.

Upon Recourſe to Alpiſti, it will be found that the Marginal Letter of Reference affixed thereto, is      Oppoſite to which Letter in the aforegoing Table of References, are the Numbers     

And by the List of N<sup>o</sup> 1.      refers to Old Subſidy
the particular      2.      New Subſidy Branches, it will      3.      Subſidy be found that—      4.      Subſidy

And ſo for all other Species of Goods

But as the Impoſts 1690 and 1693, conſiſt of a great Number of Articles would be very tedious, and in many caſes very difficult to diſcover the particular Head by which many ſorts of Goods are chargeable, I have added to the Letters of Reference for all the Goods liable to thoſe Duties, a Figure or Figures, to diſtinguiſh the particular Article or Head of thoſe Duties.

II. Suppoſe the ſeveral Branches chargeable on BRIMSTONE, as before directed to be known.

Upon Recourſe to ſuch Brimſtone, it will be found, that the Marginal Letter and Figure of Reference, are      Oppoſite to the Letter B (without regarding the Figure 5) in the aforegoing Table of References, are the Numbers     

Which by the List of the particular Branches, as before directed for will point out the particular Branches to which Brimſtone is liable: And Addition of the Figure 5 to the Letter, it will appear that that Commodity is chargeable with the 5th Article of N<sup>o</sup> 7. or Impoſt 1690.

And where there are two Numbers annexed to the Letter or Letters, the former has reſpect to the Impoſt 1690, and the latter to the Impoſt 1693, as in the Caſe of Wrought Silks, &c.

As this Chapter would not have been complete, if I had not, before cloſed, ſhewn the Nature and Uſe of theſe References, as well as of the Parts thereof; I thought it neceſſary to ſay thus much on this Head, at this was the moſt proper Place: But as Chapter the third was purpoſed, and is moſtly taken up in Directions for, and Examples of the Computation of the Duties, I muſt refer thereto, for further Explanation.

All that I have further to add, as proper to be comprehended in this Chapter, are, The Rules, Orders, &c. originally annexed to, and printed with the Table of Rates, as being Directions for the Payment and Repayment of the Duties, &c.

CERTAIN RULES, ORDERS, DIRECTIONS, and ALLOWANCES for the Advancement of Trade, and Encouragement of the Merchant, as also for the Regulating as well of the Merchants in making of due Entries and just Payments of their Customs, as of the Officers in all the Ports of this Kingdom, in the faithful Discharge of their Duty: Annexed to the former Book of Rates referred to in the Act of Tonnage and Poundage, passed Anno 12 Car. II. cap. 4.

tors, for any foreign Goods or Merchandizes to be brought into the London, or any other Port or Haven of this Kingdom of Great Britain, to be exported again by way of Composition; all other Merchants being his Majesty's Subjects, shall be admitted into the same Composition, and not to be excluded from any other Privilege whatsoever, granted to the Stranger by private Agreement, or Composition, under the same Conditions, and with the same Restriction as shall be made with the Merchant-Stranger.

IV.

Every Merchant, as well British as Stranger, that shall ship and export any kind of Wines, which formerly have paid all the Duties of Tonnage Inwards, shall have repaid, or allowed unto them all the Duties of Tonnage outwards: Except to the British Man twenty Shillings the Ton, and except to the Stranger five and twenty Shillings the Ton, upon due Proof of the due Entry and Payment of the Tonnage Inwards, and of the Shipping thereof to be made in manner as in the second Article is mentioned and expressed.

V.

If any Merchant, Denizen, or Stranger, shall export any Spanish or Woolls, he shall have liberty so to do, with this further Condition, that the Spanish or other foreign Woolls whatsoever be not exported in any other Vessel whatsoever, with Intent to be carried beyond the Seas, out of the Kingdom of Great Britain, than only in British Shipping, upon pain of Confiscation.

VI.

Every Merchant, as well British as Stranger, which shall ship and export any Currants, which formerly were duly enter'd, and paid the Subsidy and Duties Inwards, shall have allowed or repaid unto them respectively, all the Duties and Subsidy paid Inwards for the same, (except eighteen Pence for every Hundred weight to the British, and two and twenty Pence half-penny for every Hundred weight to the Stranger,) upon due Proof of the due Entry and Payment of the Custom and Subsidy thereof Inwards, and of the Shipping thereof to be made in manner as in the second Article is declared.

CHAPTER the Third

Containing Directions for, and Examples of, the Method of,

I. The Computation of The Duties to be paid on Goods and Merchandizes Imported, Exported, brought Coastwise.

II. The Computation of The Duties to be repaid, or drawn upon the Exportation of such Foreign Goods as are thereto.

III. The Allowances of The Drawback, or Bounties on the Export of several British Goods to Foreign Parts, and of the Premium on Stores imported from the British Plantations, and Scotland.

IN order to the Computation of the Duties and Drawbacks on Goods Imported, Exported, and brought Coastwise; Recourse must be first had to the particular Species of Goods in Chapter the second, under proper Distinction of INWARDS, OUTWARDS, or COASTWISE, as may be the Case; where, in most Instances, they will be found RATED under their Initial Letters; unless they are but one particular Species of many other of the same nature, for which there are general Heads erected, as for Corn, Dry Goods, Grocery Wares, Linen, Wood, &c. Or if they have not been rated by any particular Act of Parliament, yet if they are liable to any particular Duties, they will likewise be found under their proper Initial Letter, or general Head, with the Duties thereon charged, For every 20 s. of their Value upon Oath. And for Goods that are neither particularly rated, nor liable to any particular Duty, there is one General Rule inserted after Poundage Goods Inwards, Page 10. The particular Species of Goods, whose Duties or Drawbacks are to be known, having been found by the foregoing Directions; in order to compute the said Duties, or Drawbacks, the following Instructions must be fully observed.

And as the Duties on Foreign Goods imported, and their Drawbacks afterwards exported in Time, are of two distinct Kinds, viz. TONNAGE POUNDAGE; I shall therefore distinctly treat of their Computations.

I.—TONNAGE

This is the Distinction for the Duties payable on Wines imported, charged after the Rate of so much per Ton; the several respective Branches whereof have been already fully and particularly explained under their respective Heads, by having first shewn the gross Duty, next the several particular and lastly, by having inserted the Neat Duty remaining to be paid or paid, for one Ton, and one Caskon, after the Deduction of the said Discounts, according to the several Circumstances of Entry.

So that when the several particular Branches, to which any sort of Wines are due; and which compose the total Duties, are desired to be known; that particular sort, observing the Circumstances of Importation, and the Nature of Entry; must be sought for between Page 259, and Page 263, and opposite thereto, in the last Column, will be found a REFERENCE; denoting the said particular Branches; the Use and Nature whereof I shall fully illustrate and explain in the following Example:

Suppose, two Casks containing one Ton of Spanish Wine, unfill'd, for Sale, imported into the Port of London; by British, in a British Ship qualified, all Duties paid down.

Upon Recourse to Page 259, (one of those before-mention'd,) in the last Column thereof, opposite to this sort of Wine, under this Circumstance of Entry, will be found the Reference Z 6; which Reference being sought for, in The Table of References, &c. in Page 296. it will be found to denote, that the Branches III, 2, 3, 4, 5, 14. are in this Case payable.

That to discover the particular Sums, that are to be charged for the aforesaid Branches; they must each of them be consulted in the manner hereafter explained, viz.

|                            |   |                                      |

| I. or Old Sub-sidy     | Upon Recourse to this Branch, under the Dis-tinction of Tonnage, it will be found, ThatSpanish, &c. Wines in Casks, imported intoLondon, pay the same as Levantine Wines, im-ported into London, Bristol, or Southampton;which, by British unfill'd is, Neat | 3. 10. 2 <sup>3</sup> / <sub>8</sub> |
| II. or New Sub-sidy    | Upon Recourse to this Branch, under the Dis-tinction of Tonnage, it will be found, Thatthe Neat New Subsidy is the same as the NeatOld Subsidy; which in this Case was  | 3. 10. 2 <sup>3</sup> / <sub>8</sub> |
| III. or 1/4 Subsidy        | Upon Recourse to this Branch, it will befound to be One third Part of the Neat NewSubsidy; which is   | 1. 3. 4 <sup>1</sup> / <sub>2</sub>  |
| IV. or 1/3 Subsidy         | Upon Recourse to this Branch, it will befound to be Two third Parts of the Neat NewSubsidy; which is  | 2. 6. 9 <sup>1</sup> / <sub>2</sub>  |
| V. or Addi-tional Duty | Upon Recourse to Wines in this Branch, itwill be found, that all other Wines, exceptthose particularly charged, (among whichSpanish is not included,) in Casks, unfill'dand paid, pay, Neat   | 2. 17. 1 <sup>5</sup> / <sub>8</sub> |

| VII. or Impost onWine  | Upon Recourse to this Branch, it will befound, That all other Wines, except thoseparticularly charged, (amongst which Spanishis not included,) for Sale; unfill'd and paid,in Casks, pay, Neat  | 8. 0. 7 <sup>3</sup> / <sub>8</sub>  |

The Total Duties to be paid l. 21. 18. 3<sup>1</sup>/<sub>8</sub>

And

And after the same manner may the Duties of all other sorts of Wines, what Circumstances soever, be computed; observing, that when any of Tons or Gallons are entered, the respective Duties per Ton and per Gallon, by the number of Tons given, and the Duties per Gallon, by the number of Gallons given.

As for Example:

Suppose 12 Casks cont. 5 Tons, 34 Gallons, Portugal Wine imported into the Out-Ports, by British, &c.

Old Subsidy per Ton ————— 2. 6. 9. 12

The number of Tons given ————— 5

Old Subsidy for 5 Tons ————— 11. 14. 0. 0

Old Subsidy per Gallon ————— ,009285

The number of Gallons given ————— 34

37140

27855

Old Subsidy for 34 Gallons ————— ,318600

Old Subsidy for 5 Tons 34 Gallons ————— 12.

And so for all other Duties.

But for the greater Ease and Dispatch in computing the several Duties of Wines; and as many of the Officers of the Customs are not acquainted with Decimal Arithmetick, I would recommend the Use of my Table, printed 1721, under the Title of, A Complete Table of the Duties upon Wines and Vinegar, &c. where each Branch will be found ready computed, to the twentieth of a Penny, for any Quantity, from one Gallon to fifty Tons.

Note, The Old Subsidy of Perry, Rape of Grapes, Syder, Syder-Beger, Vinegar, being likewise under the Regulation of Tonnage, is to be computed by the foregoing Directions.

II. ——— P O U N D A G E .

This is the Distinction for the Duties, payable on all Goods imported except Wines, and for all the Duties but the Old Subsidy on Perry, Rape of Grapes, Syder, Syder-Beger, and Vinegar, because mostly to be levied and collected much per POUND, or per Cent. of the Rates or Values of the Goods, as and particularly explained under the several Branches: And therefore the first Step towards the Computation of this kind of Duties, is to be able to take readily to take The 5 per Cent. or 12 d. in the Pound of any Sum what. For which Purpose I would advise, that the following Table be learned by heart:

the foregoing Directions and Example, I apprehend, that a Person of very little Skill in Arithmetick, may, with Ease, be capable of discovering per Cent. of any Sum whatsoever : So that now supposing him to be expert therein, I shall next proceed to shew its Use, by giving Directions for, examples of the Method of the Computation of the Duties of POUNDAGE.

and in order to discover the several Neat Branches to which any sort of

POUNDAGE Goods are liable, it must be observed,

That the said Goods must be sought for amongst THE RATES OF MER-ANDIZE INWARDS, (as mentioned between Page 71. and Page 257.) un-their proper Initial Letters, or the general Head wherein such Goods are, their Nature, likely to be comprehended.

That when the Goods are there found, the Quantity for which the seal Branches are desired to be known, must be computed at the Rate af-to such Goods in the first or second Column, whether it be by the Pound, Ell, or Hundred, &c.

That if such Goods are not found to be any where Rated, or tho' explicitly Rated, are yet liable to some particular Duty, or Duties, according to their Values upon Oath; such Value must be ascertained by the Importer, directed under the proper Branches.

That after the Amount of the Goods at their respective Rates, or according to their VALUES UPON OATH, is thus discovered, you may then proceed to the Computation of the several particular Branches to which such Goods are liable, and which compose the Total Duties; by the Assistance of REFERENCES in the last Column, which shall be found to stand opposite their respective Rates; the Use and Nature whereof are fully illustrated and explained, in the following Example.

following are the several Neat Branches, as they are to be charged in the Books; being the Method of Computation most agreeable to the of the several Laws which regulate the said Branches, and which is as-certified in all the Ports of England, except London, where the Subsidies computed upon the Bills, according to the Rates or Values of the Goods; and other Duties at twenty times the Sums thereon imposed, so that in the said Branches into the Books, only the one twentieth Part of each of must be charged: But as the former Method is not only the most na-but also the most expeditious, by reason that the Duties consist of such Sums, and is likewise more easy, and less subject to mistake, because that are computed on the Bills, are the same that are to be charged Books: I shall give only one Example of the other Method of Compu-and in all the succeeding Examples, shall perform their Operations in Sums.

The foregoing Example computed according to the Gross Weight, &c.
 agreeable to the Practice of the Port of London.

The Discount being 10 per Cent per Annum, is 12 <sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> per Cent. for the 15 Months, when paid within 30 Days from the Ship's Report; but, for of the said 15 Months elapsed before Entry, the Importer loses one fifth Part of the 12 <sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> per Cent.

Example.

Suppose the above Entry not to have been made, till two of the 15 Months had been expired, the Operation would be thus:

|   |     |     |                                 |  |

Here two of the 15 Months being elapsed, thirteen only remain to be paid for, after the Rate of 10 per Cent. per Annum, as thus:

|                           | 24. | 12. | 2 <sup>8</sup> / <sub>10</sub>  |  |

Or thus:

II. Sundry Articles of Goods mixt together.

the foregoing Examples may be sufficient to shew the Nature of the of the Duties on any one single Article of Goods; yet, as in it will be found, that several Articles, and which are subject to quite Duties, do frequently occur in the same Entry; I shall next give In-thereof, in some of the most material Products of those Countries with Great-Britain does most chiefly trade; But before I enter upon these of sundry Articles, it is necessary to be observed, that the most ready Method for a Learner, (who must of course be obliged to consult for the Duties of each Article,) is to make use of Paper either folded in Columns, wherein he may distinctly charge all the several Branches which each Article is liable, before he proceeds to the next; which gross being added up, and their proper Discounts deducted, will produce several Neat Branches to be paid for all the Goods in that Entry: But this Method is the most natural and easy, yet it is not so practicable, the Bills of Entry being usually no larger than a Quarter of a Sheet Paper, they will not admit of a sufficient number of Columns: And there-

therefore I shall exemplify the Method usually practised ; which is, to one Column only, wherein to charge the Amount of the Duty, upon each respective Article, in order to discover the Old Subsidy ; and on the several other Branches, under the distinction of their proper Name, the vacant Spaces of the Bill.

II. Goods from France, or of the Product of France, &c.

Besides the Directions before given for the Computation of the Duties on Goods imported from foreign Parts, it must be further observed with respect to Goods, that they are chargeable with all the several Duties (except Impost 1690,) if they were of the Product of, or imported from, any other Place, unless India or China.

That all French Goods and Merchandizes (except Brandy, Salt, Vinegar and Wine) are over and above all other Duties, chargeable with Impost 1690, at the Rate of l. 25 per Cent. as in Page 32, Article 36; unless they are particularly charged for the said Impost, at an higher Rate; and then instead of the said l. 25 per Cent. they must be taken at such Rate, as is the Case of Bacon, Catlings, and Necklaces.

That as to such Goods as are of the Growth, Product, or Manufacture of France itself, except Brandy, Vinegar, and Wine, they are also chargeable with a second Duty after the Rate of l. 25 per Cent. as in Page 40.

As to the Computation of the Duties on sundry Articles of French Goods together in the same Entry; I apprehend, that the Directions before single Articles of French Goods, and for sundry Articles of other Goods, will be sufficient, without Examples, and therefore I shall not insert any.

IV. Goods from East-India or China.

As the general Directions before given for the Computation of the Duties on Goods imported from foreign Parts, it must be further observed with respect to the Growth, Product, or Manufacture of the East-Indies or China, that all MANUFACTURES of India or China (except Indico and Arrack) are to be charged the several Duties payable on the like Goods from other Places; to be charged with Impost 1690, after the Rate of l. 20 per Cent.

That such Goods as are rated in the first Column of the Book of Rates, may be sold by Bills at sight, and Security taken under the common Seal of the Company, for Payment of one half of the Duties at the End of six Kalendar Months, from the time when the Ship was, or ought to have been reported; and the other half, at the End of twelve Kalendar Months from the said Report; yet the same Allowances and Deductions are to be made to the said Company, as are made to other Merchants paying down the Duties before landing.

6 Ann. cap. 16. §. 11.

10 ——— 29. — 1, 2.

That for such Goods as are not particularly rated in the first Column of the Book of Rates, but are chargeable with the Duties ad Valorem (except Japanned and Lacquer'd Wares;) upon Entries thereof at the Custom-House, and before landing, the Importers are to give Security by Bond, with two or more sufficient Sureties for Payment of the said Duties according to their real Values, as soon as the Goods shall be sold, and for exposing them to Sale openly and fairly, by way of Auction, or by Inch of Candle, within the City of London, within five Years after the Importation: And that the aforesaid real Values, according to which the Duties are to be paid, are to be reckoned according to the Price at which such Goods shall be sold; after a Deduction made of so much as the Neat Duties, payable for the same to his Majesty, do really amount unto (except the Duty of l. 5 per Cent. payable to the Crown for the use of the Company,) and of so much as the Company shall, bonâ fide, allow for Prompt Payment to the Buyers at such Sales; and likewise of l. 6 per Cent. on the whole Value, to the Company, for their Charges in keeping the Goods from the Importation, to the time of Sale.

12 & 13 W. III. cap. 11. §. 15.

2 & 3 Ann. ——— 9. — 6, 7.

6 ——— 13. — 11.

7 Geo. I. ——— 21. — 11.

10 ——— 10. — 47.

That the Company's Allowance to the Buyer, for Prompt Payment, is l. 6 ½ per Cent.

That as to Japanned and Lacquer'd Wares, the Duties thereof are to be paid according to their full, true and real Values, to be ascertained by the gross Weight at which they shall be sold by the Candle. 12 & 13 W. III. cap. 11. §. 15.

That as to Callicoes and Dimities, part of the Duties are payable according to their respective RATES, and part according to their REAL VALUES, as ascertained by their Sale at the Candle, as in Page 39.

That as to Arrack, the Duties payable thereon are the same as French Brandy, as in page 226.

Examples of the Computation of the Duties on East-India, or China Goods.

I. RATED GOODS.

There is nothing particular to be observed, in relation to the Duties on Goods, excepting, that if they are manufactured, they are liable to l. 20 per per Cent. for Impost 1690; I concluded, that after so many Example Articles of other Goods, I might very properly comprehend all that cessary to be noted on this Head, in one Example of single Goods.

II. UNRATED GOODS.

the several Duties to which these Goods are liable, it is only to be observed before for Rated Goods, that if they are manufactured, (except Arrack) subject to 1. 20 per Cent. for Impost 1690: But as the Duties are to be according to the real Values sold for at the Candle, after a Deduction of the duties, and the Company's Allowance and Charges; the said Values will according to the particular Branches, to which any Species of Goods are and therefore the only Difficulty is in reducing the Values, by making and proper Deductions: The Nature whereof is fully illustrated in the following Examples:

1000 lb. East-Indian Wax-Candles sold for 1. 100.

Gross Value 100. 0. 0

Certain Gross Duties 33. 0. 0 The cert. Dut. 33. 6. 8

Advances the Value to 133. 0. 0 The Charges 12. 10. 0

Which reduces the Value to 54. 3. 4

Then say,

Advanced Value of 1. 133. 0. 0 is to 1. 33. 0. 0 the Gross Du- } 13. 8. 9½

so is 1. 54. 3. 4 the neat Value, to the neat Duties of } 40. 14. 6½

The reduced Value 40. 14. 6½

Or,

Advanced Value of 1. 133. 0. 0 is to 1. 100. 0. 0 the gross } 40. 14. 6½

so is 1. 54. 3. 4 the gross reduced Value, to the neat } 40. 14. 6½

Value of 40. 14. 6½

And

And that this is a true Method, is thus demonstrable: for if
 To the reduced Value (as before)
 Are added { the Duties certain the Duties uncertain
 the Allowance of  $12\frac{1}{2}$  per Cent.

The Total makes the Value sold for

By which it is evident, that no more is deducted than the Duties and do really amount unto.

See the Operation at large in Example the ninth.

And after the same manner I have given Examples of reducing the of all other sorts of Goods, in order fully to shew the Nature and the Operations: But as in common Practice it would be too tedious to such Operations, for every different Quantity of each Species of Goods may frequently occur; I have, at the Root of each Operation, inferre reduced Value, in Decimals, for every 20s. of the Value sold for at the So that if the Value for which any Commodity is sold, be reduced in cimal, and multiplied by such its respective reduced Value of 20s. the will be the reduced Value, upon which the Duties are to be computed.

that upon consulting the several A.D. from which each Paragraph was collected, I have always endeavour'd to insert the Sense and Substance thereof under each Head as I thought they most naturally had relation to: But if any possible the Person who wants to be inform'd in any particular Case, may not always happen to look it under the same Head where I have intended it, and as many Paragraphs may have respect to more Heads than one, I will direct every Head to which any Paragraph could any ways relate, re-

CHAPTER the Fifth.

CONTAINING

the Sense and Substance of the several LAWs now in force, relating to the Customs, Navigation, and Trade, with References to the ACTs at large, and likewise to each Occurrence in the whole Book: Disposed under proper Heads in Alphabetical Order.

THIS Chapter is not only a distinct Part, and independent of the former, but contains several things relating to those Parts, which, to prevent Repetition, and other Inconveniences, could not be so properly inserted in every particular Place to which they have any relation; and therefore in every such Place, the proper Heads under which they are comprehended, are referred to in this INDEX: And though it would be superfluous to repeat any thing that is contained in any of the preceding Parts, yet there is any one Occurrence which is not here relat'd to by the particular Page where it is to be found: so that this Chapter, besides its particular Property, is complete and general INDEX to the whole Book.

For the better understanding of this Index, it must be observ'd:

That upon consulting the several ACTs from which each Paragraph was collected, I have always endeavour'd to insert the Sense and Substance thereof under such Heads as I thought they most naturally had relation to: But as it is very possible the Person who wants to be inform'd in any particular Case, may not always happen to seek it under the same Head where I have inserted it; and as many Paragraphs may have respect to more Heads than one. I have under every Head to which any Paragraph could any ways relate, refer'd to the particular Article of the Head under which it is to be found.

2. That in expressing the Sense of the several Laws, I have endeavoured, far as was practicable in so small a Compass, to do with the very Words the Acts as being the least liable to Misconstruction; and not to omit material Circumstance: But when it is considered how particularly some of the several Acts at large are, and consequently how difficult it must be to contract the full and perfect Sense, of perhaps several Pages, in the Space of little more than in many Lines, Chose it will be some times that a Deficiency or Imperfection be discovered: And though no doubt I have wanting in my Quotations, yet in all nice Points and doubtful Cases, there is the most Probability of Danger in trusting to an Abridgement, I would advise, that the Acts themselves be consulted, for your more perfect, and sure Information.
3. That each Paragraph speaks the Sense of the Act or Acts, to which it refers, as far as they are now in force: and that where several Acts are referred to, the latter either only continue the former, or make some Addition or Alteration in the Circumstances, or are directed entirely to new Regulations: In which case, the former Acts are mentioned in the preceding Paragraph, and therefore no part of their Substance (unless repeated in the subsequent Acts,) inserted in the Body of the Paragraphs: Yet they are always quoted as a Guide to discover the several Variations, should they upon Occasion be desired to be known.
4. That as to the Regulations prescribed by the several Acts, concerning the manner of the Execution, the Collection, and the Discharge of the Money, and for keeping a separate and distinct Account of each Branch, and for the Money weekly into the Exchequer in Specie, and the manner of the Receipt or Renewal, or for the manner of applying the same to the several Uses, and for the Circumstances of their Application and Appropriation, by the several Acts which revive, continue, or alter the former Powers and Regulations: I must refer to the Acts at large, as not being necessary to be inserted, nor consistent with my designed Brevity.
5. That each Head under which any Circumstance is to be sought for, is in Roman Capital Letters, and that every particular Paragraph under each Head has Relation thereto: But when any particular Paragraph has more than that which precedes it, such more Paragraph must be entitled, and have Respect only to the last preceding one.
6. That though the Acts may only temporary, it may so happen, that at some Time some particular Paragraph is continued, and the Act or Acts to which it was collected may be expired, and therefore to prevent the Inconsequence of such a Misquotation, I would advise, that the Table of the Continuation of the several Acts, &c. at the End of the Index, be consulted, in order to be assured that the said Act or Acts are still in Force.

And what has been before stated, concerning the Abridgement and Quotation of the several Acts of Parliament, may be observed, with Respect to the new Edition of this Book.
